PROFILE

Experienced project manager and architect with a multidisciplinary background across international infrastructure, and sustainably benchmarked buildings. Skilled in coordinating complex projects that require high-level building performance evaluation, certification alignment (LEED, BREEAM), and stakeholder collaboration. Proven ability to work across a wide range of building types — from embassies and luxury hotels to public health infrastructure and university buildings — bringing an adaptable and analytical mindset to every project. Currently managing KfW-funded global development projects with a focus on sustainability, compliance, and design quality.
